October 4, 1969
Saturday
London W.8

Dear Harold,

Hello! How's my spirited author doing? I do hope you are in good spirits and your work is coming along well. My hopes and wishes are with you.

I'm just enclosing some of the money I owe you and wanted to let you know I was changing addresses.

Haven't noticed anything too new over here – neither had my professeur. Of course Ray's statements sounded like an instant replay of Oswald's and it all connects up with Cuba. It's really wild.

Let me know how your work is progressing and if there is anything I can possibly do.

I send you my
Best wishes

Cindy